

Curtis Solutions Network, Inc. President, Jean Curtis, named “2008 Eastern Pennsylvania SBA Small Home-based Business Champion of the Year”; Award to be Given in June Ceremony

Collegeville, PA - Jean Curtis, President and owner of Curtis Solutions Network, Inc. and Co-founder of The Women Business Owners Idea Café, has been named by the Small Business Administration as the “2008 Eastern Pennsylvania SBA Small Home-based Business Champion of the Year” for her commitment to the advancement of women’s business ownership and advocacy on their behalf.

Whimsically known as Jean Curtis, Dragon Slayer™ since 2007 when she launched her Performance Coaching company, asking “what’s draggin’ YOU down?,” Jean is to be honored with the SBA award on June 5th at Citizens Park in Philadelphia, during a ceremony prior to the 1:05 game time when the Phillies play Cincinnati.

Jean has a professional career that spans 30 years in sales & marketing and corporate sales training. In addition to her coaching and training for business entrepreneurs and career professionals, Jean is a recent author and contributor to a booklet she spearheaded and published, entitled, “74 Business Survival Tips from a Collection of Experts”. She also is a noted public speaker and enjoys being called into the business battlefield regularly to help others learn how to slay their own dragons and build forward movement in their lives and careers.

For more information about Jean Curtis and Curtis Solutions Network, Inc. contact her office at 610-454-0848.

For information about The Women Business Owners Idea Café, go to www.WBOIdeaCafe.com.